Ununununiumunun

[999.9]

Discovered by Wilson Gramer in 2017, long before periods 8 and 9 were. According to the International Pizza Scale, this element is "absolutely, completely impossible to create without opening a wormhole that leads you to the end of the beginning of the end of the universe." Hence, this is what it looks like:

Ununununiumunun does not have an electron configuration because the last possible one is at Element 173, Unsepttrium. This means that the instant you create Ununununiumunun it no longer exists, because it is literally nothing.
